Change reel design for SOD523 and SOD323F of 3k packing

Notification information

This change is about the reel hub diameter change for SOD523 and SOD323F for the 3k packing. The reel itself including outer diameter and reel hole diameter is unchanged; only the hub diameter is changed. The new design will be used in parallel to the current one.

The new reel design is compatible with the current reel design SOD323F and SOD523 components in the 3K packing format (12NC ending#: 115).

Why do we issue this notification?

The changed reel is already used for other products and reel sizes and allows the continuation with the same type of reels to ensure consistency and standardization in packing process.
