

PRODUCT CHANGE NOTICE

Valuable clients and partners,

As part of our ongoing technological and quality improvement program, we would like to inform you that Dalcnet Dimmers are being updated with the removal of the printed adhesive label.

All identification and graphical information will be directly applied to the plastic case by means of UV printing technology, ensuring excellent durability, improved aesthetic finish, and legibility.

This change will be progressively implemented in the upcoming production batches.

Product functionality, part numbers, and technical specifications will remain unchanged.

Please do not hesitate to contact us should you require any additional information.
